Time it was,

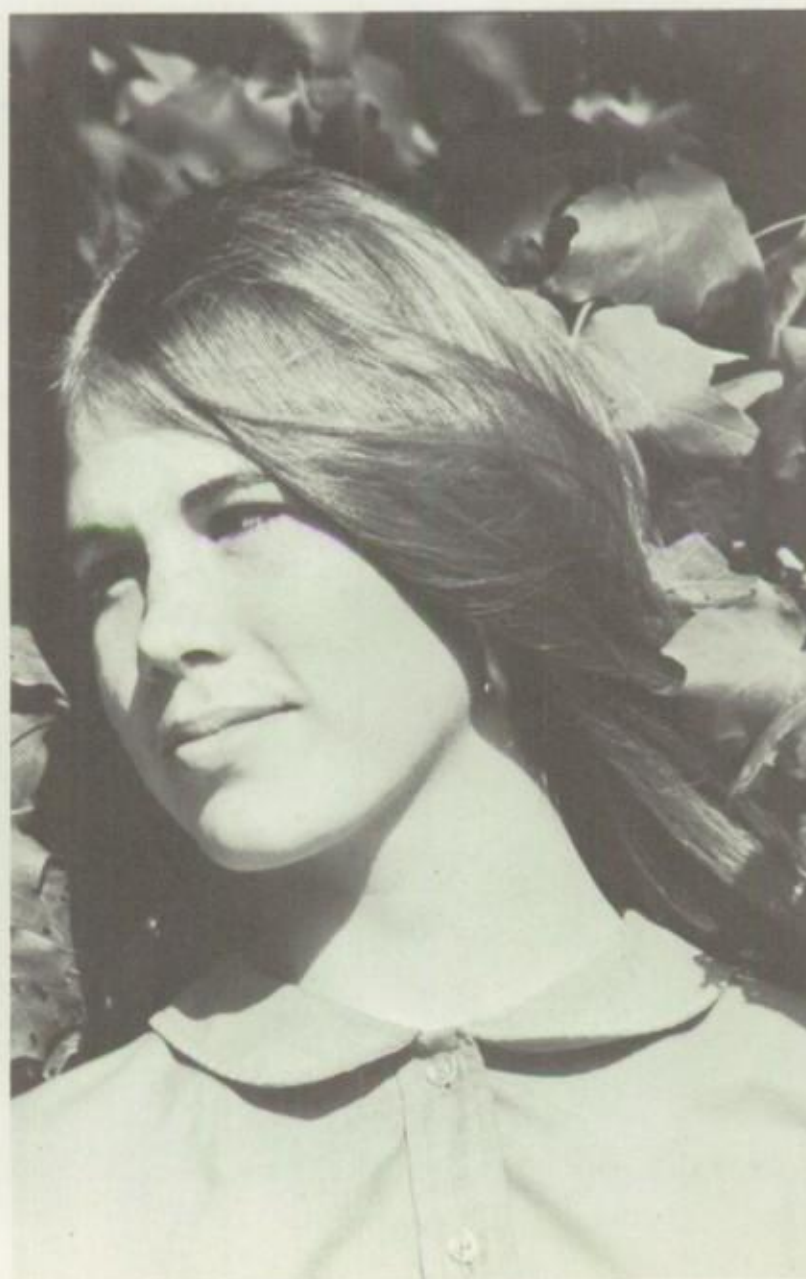

And what a time it was,
It was . . .

A time of innocence,

A time of confidences.

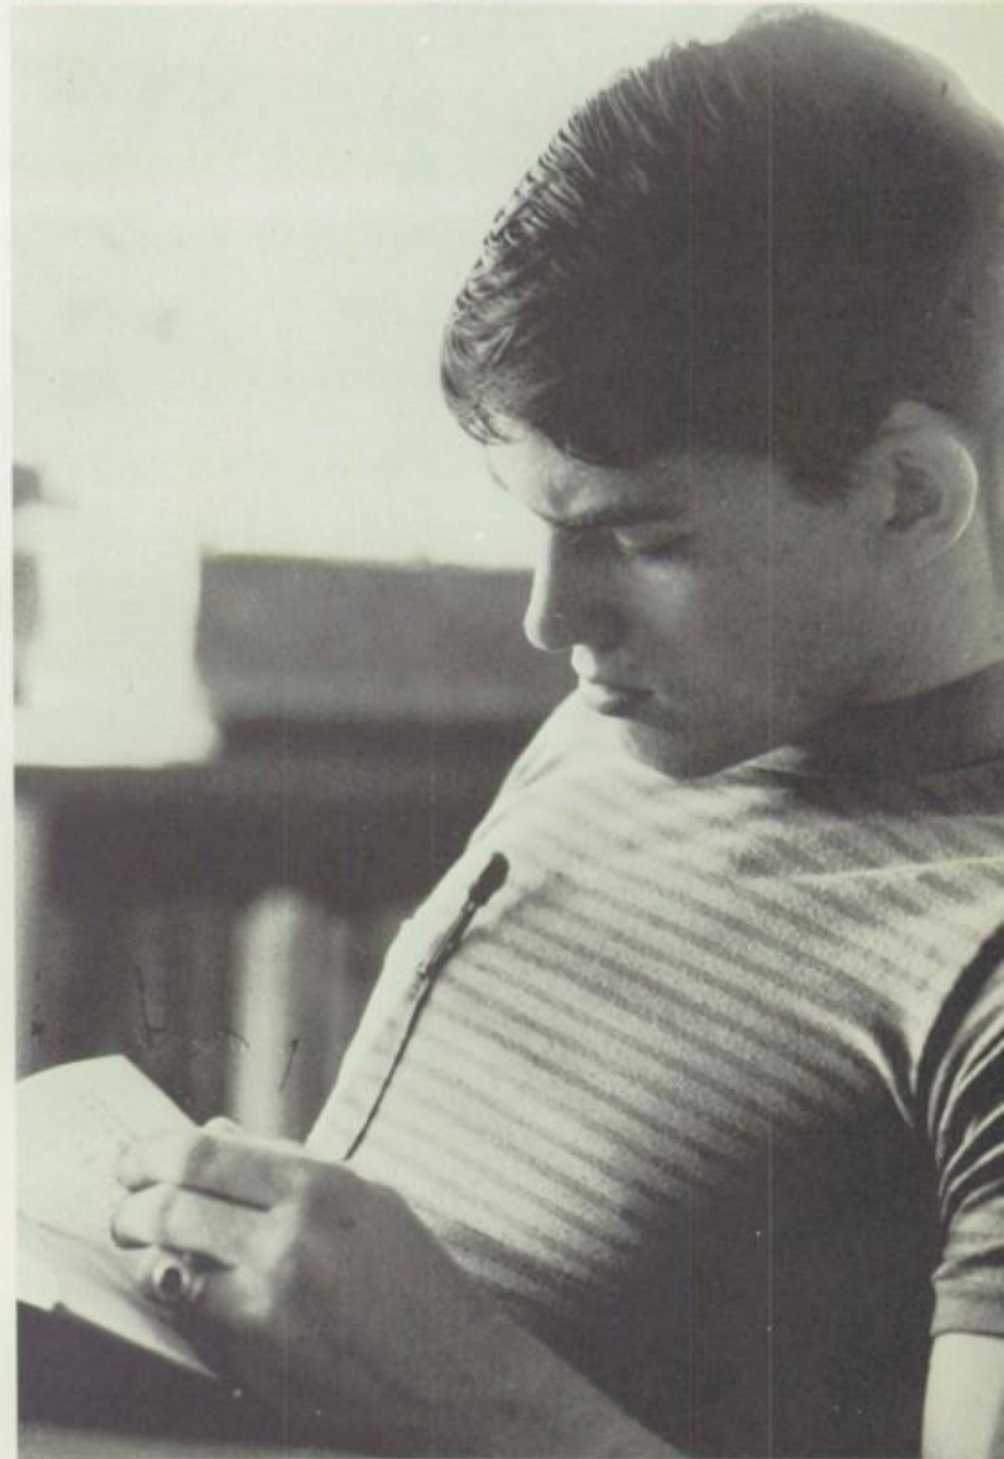

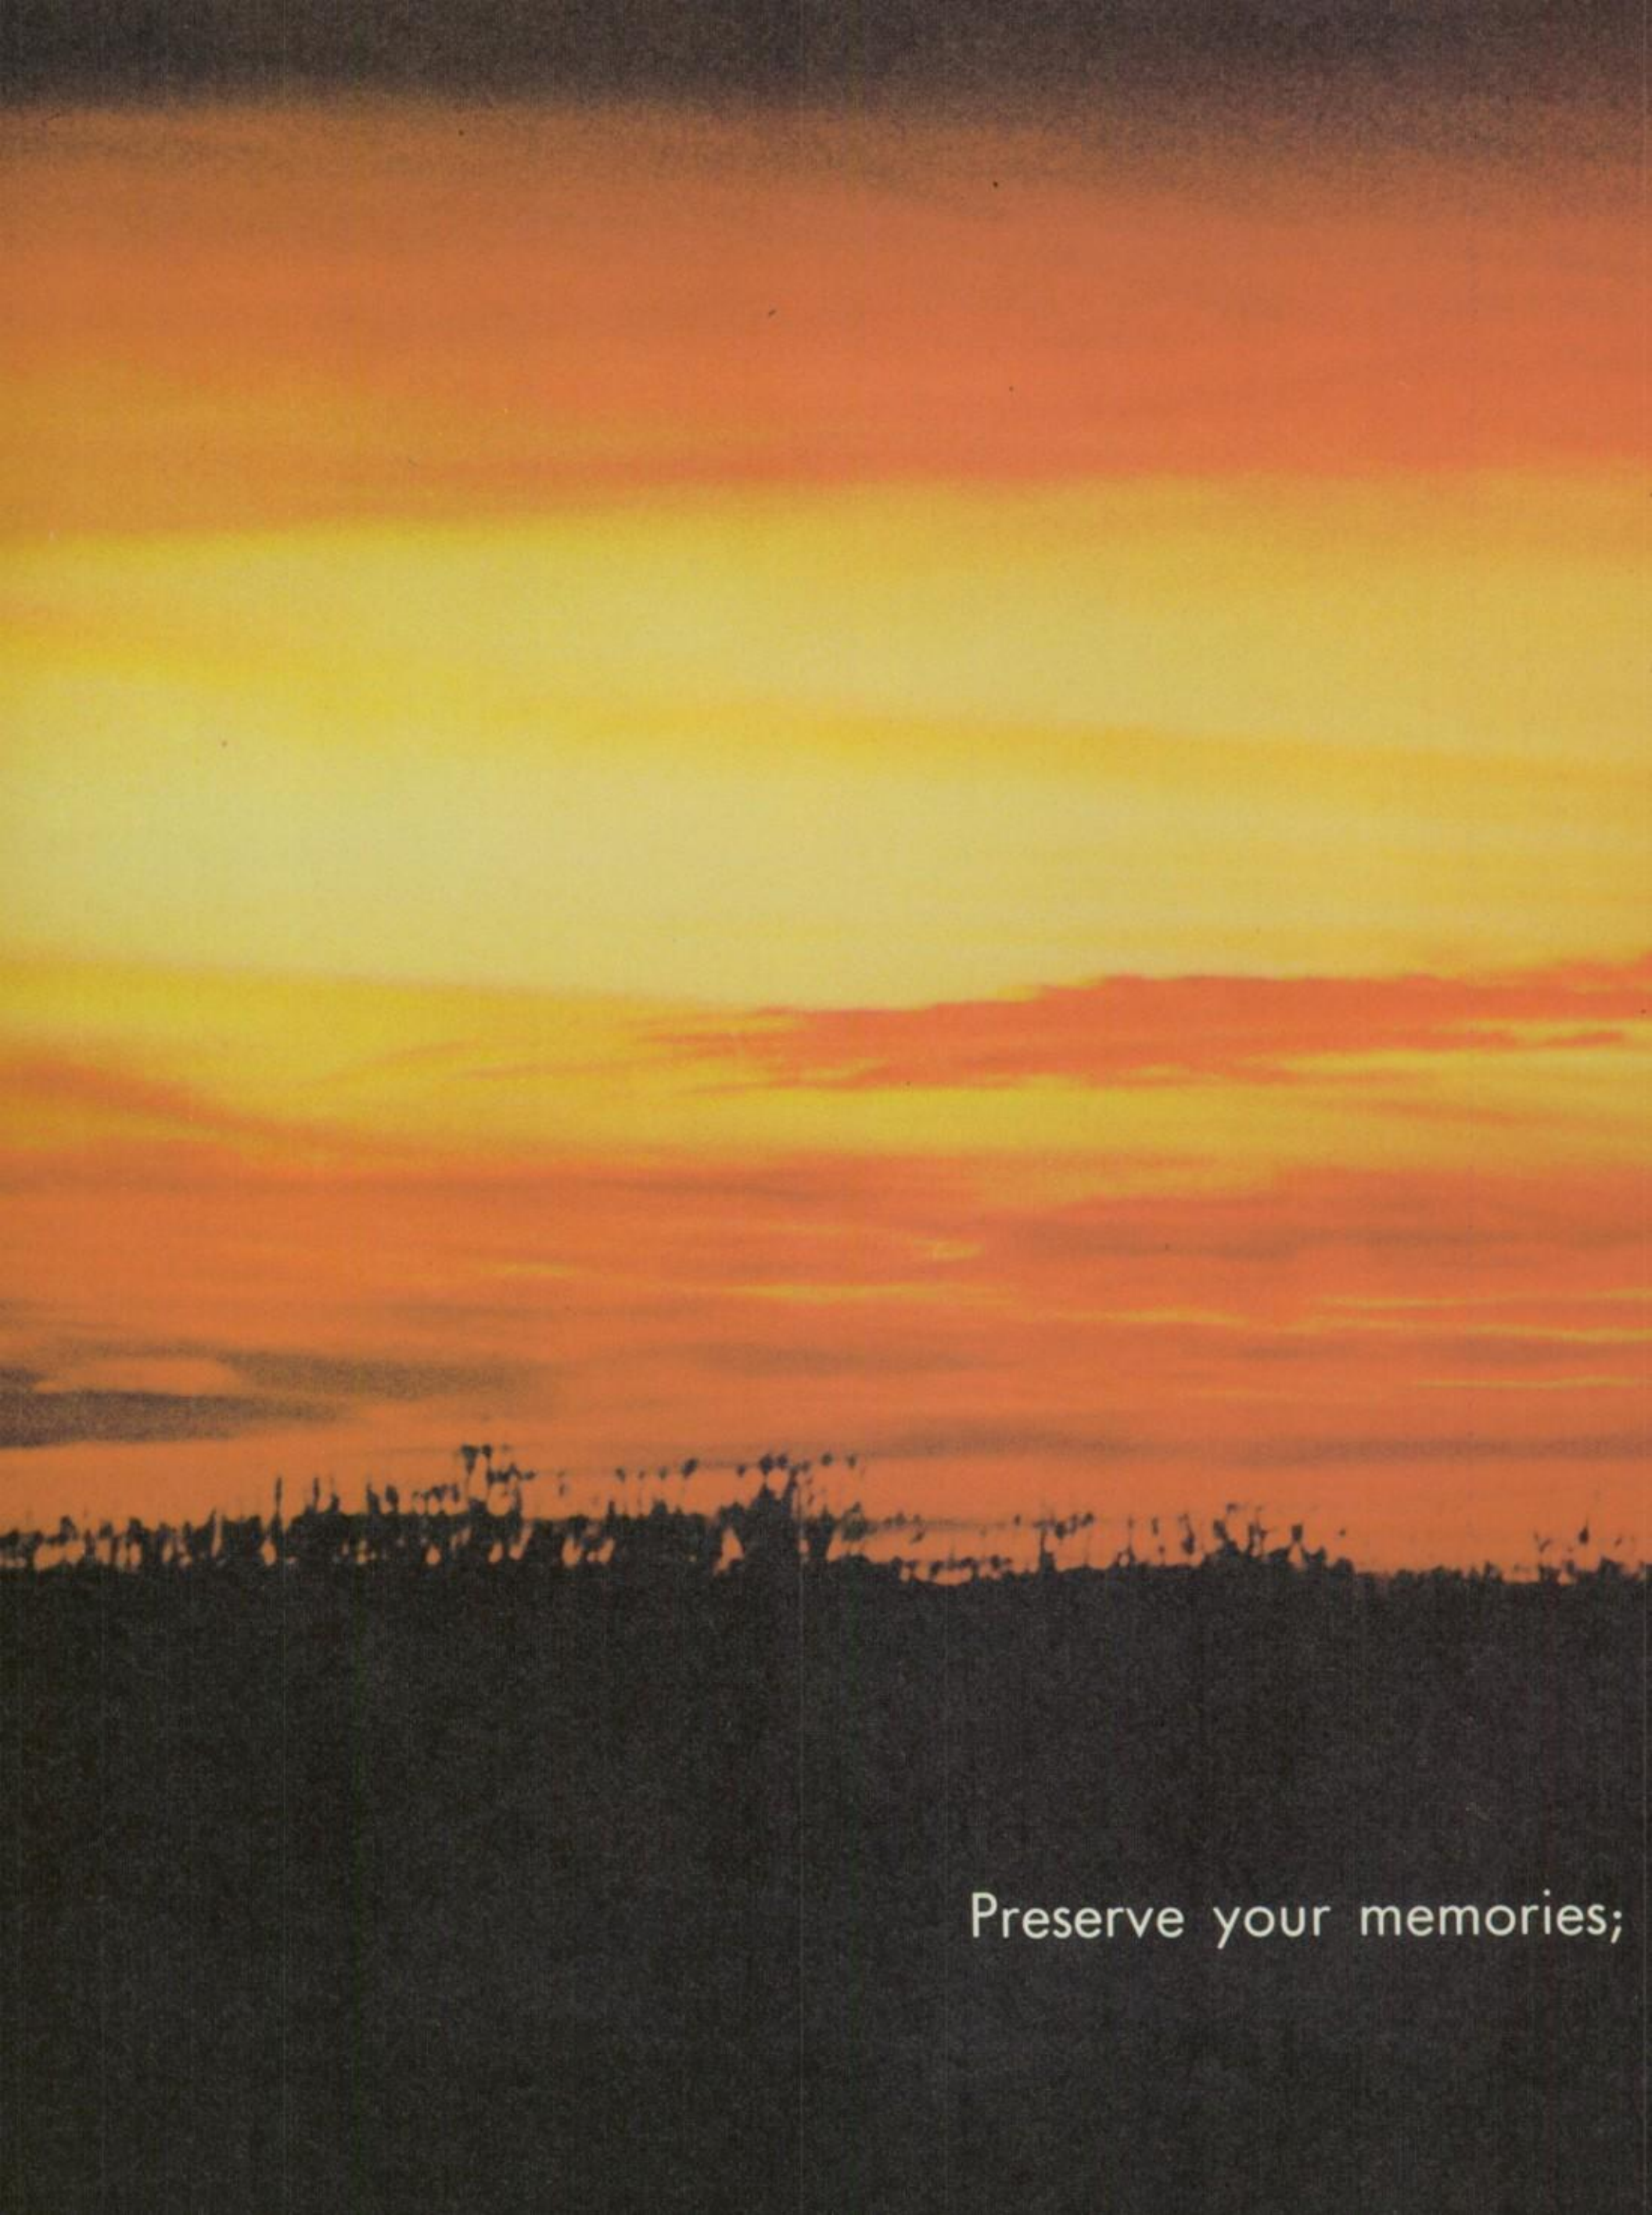

Long ago . . .
it must be . . .

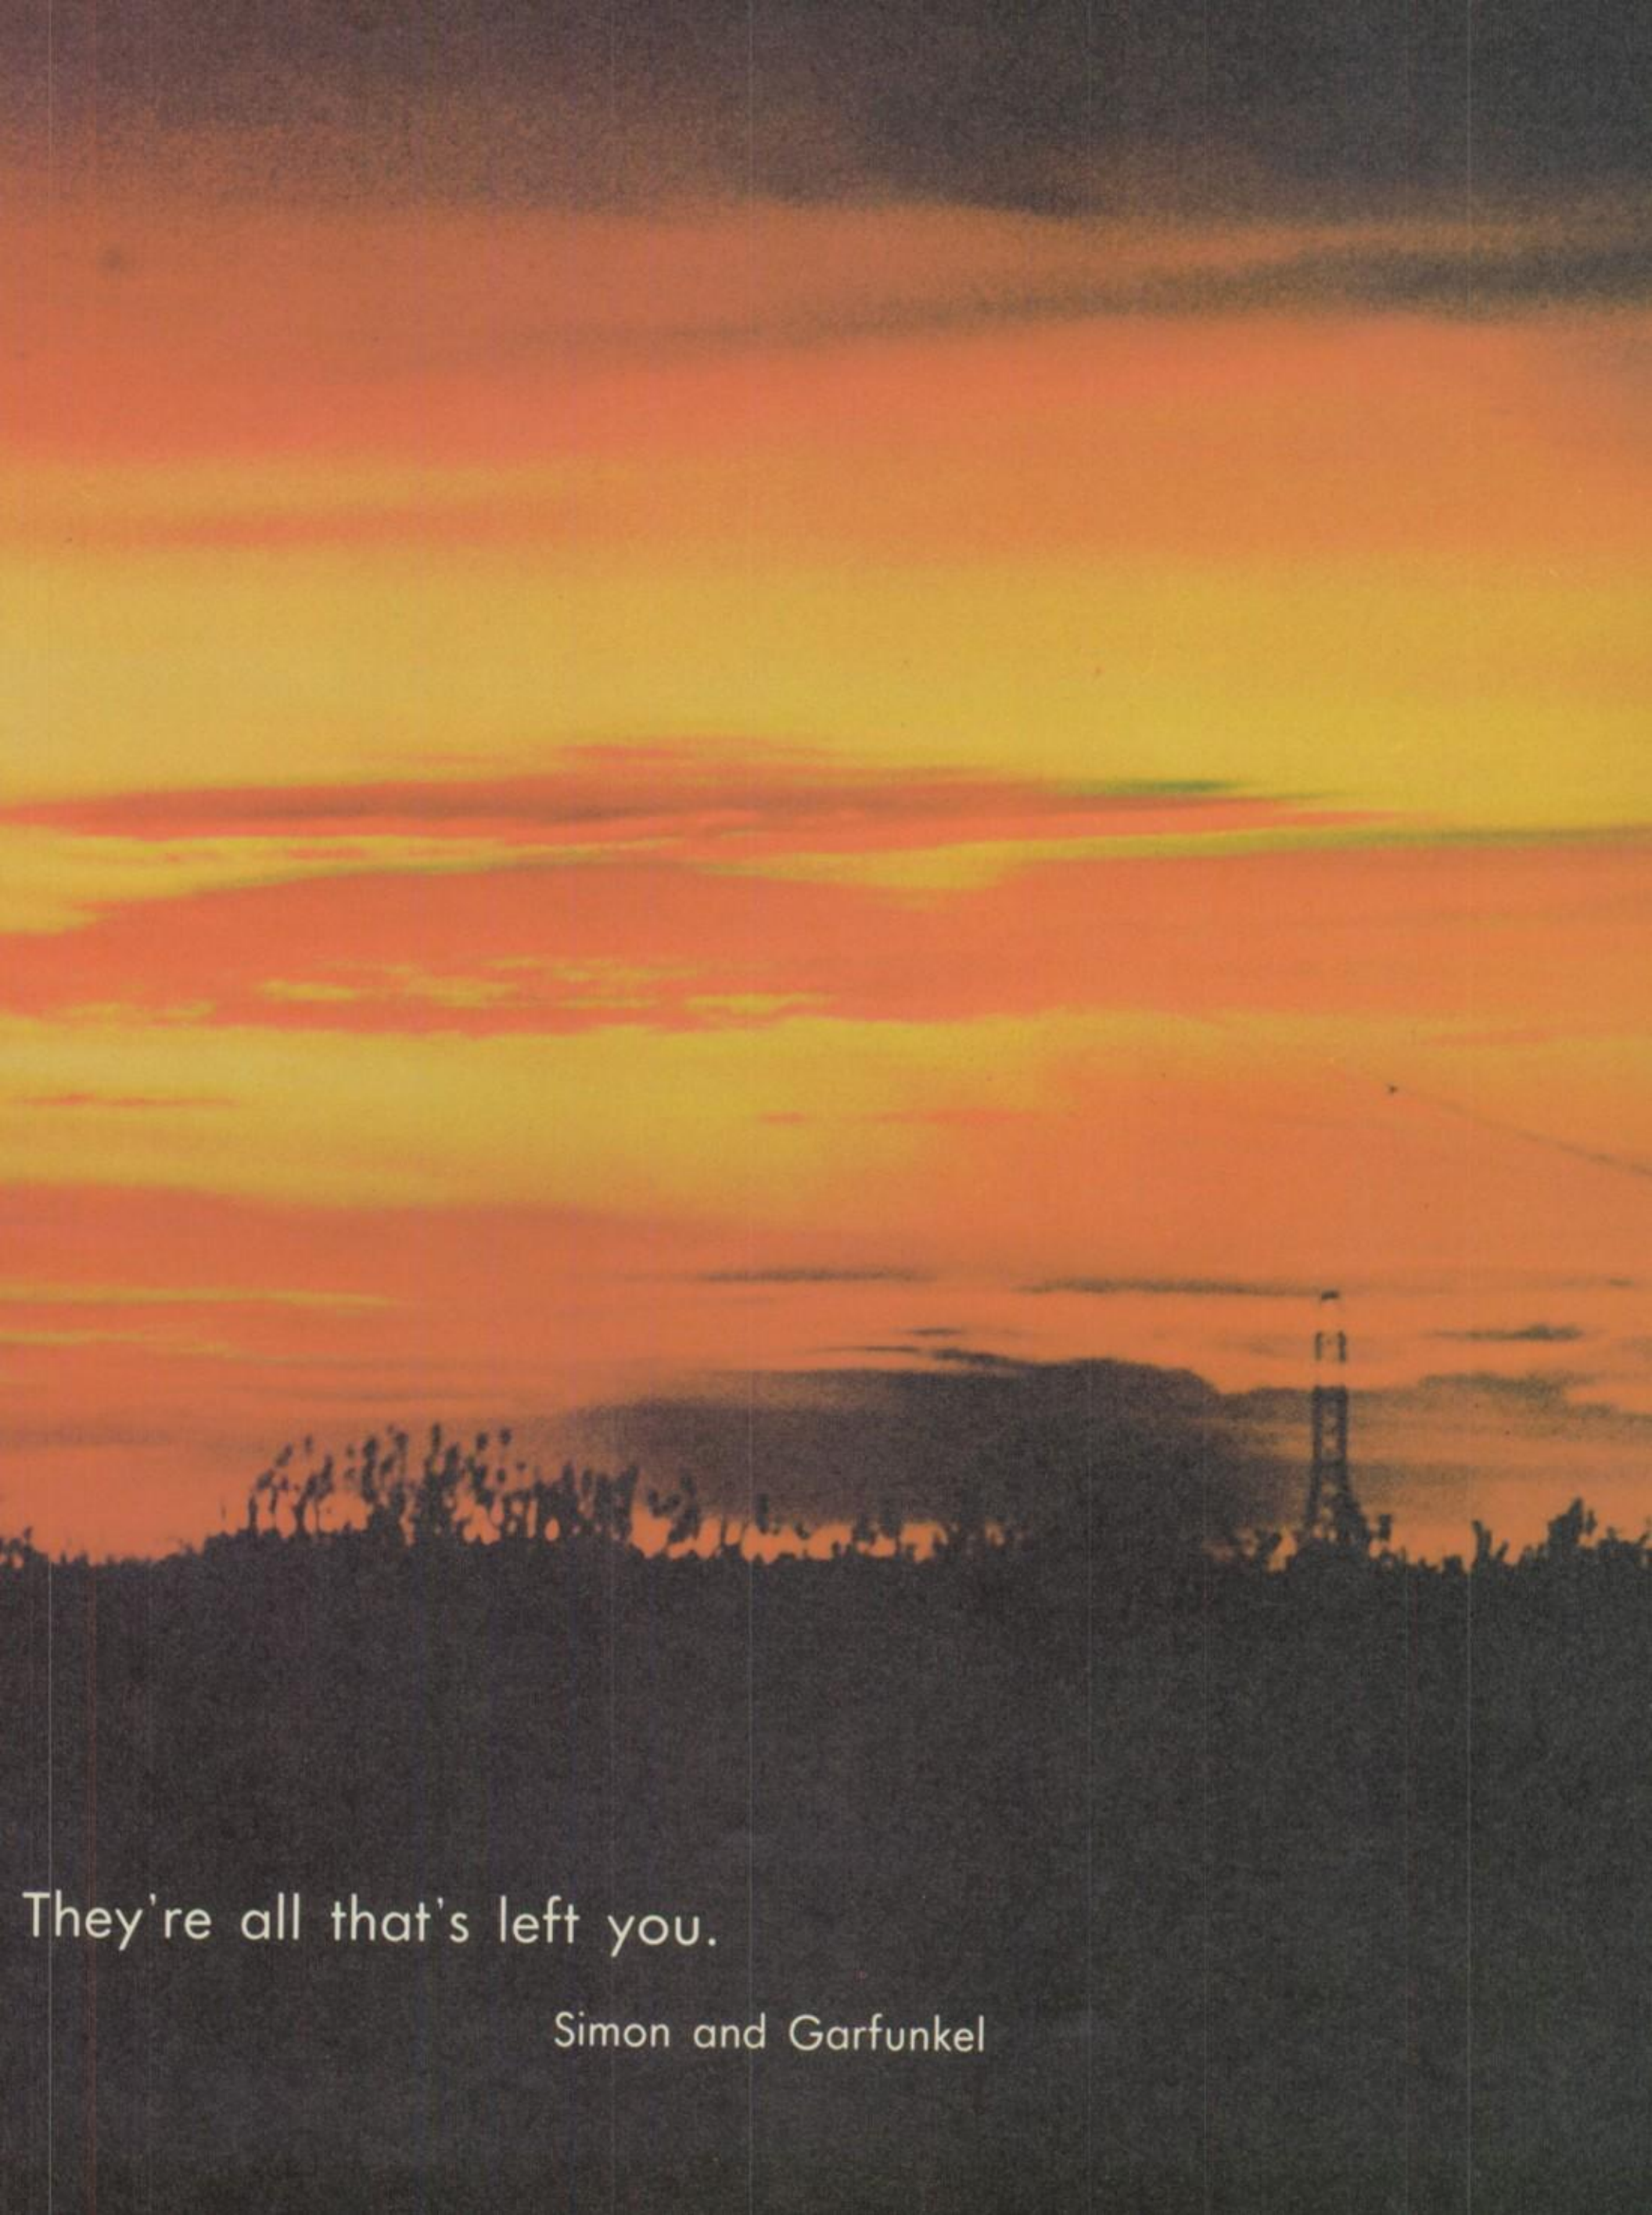

I have a photograph.

Preserve your memories;

They're all that's left you.

Sports

The fields have been limed;
The courts have been polished
And the many widths of
striped-shirt referees
Have come inspecting
and rejecting,
surveying and relaying,
proposing and disposing
For the game we play
tonight.

Golf

And so the fields — we have used them.

The courts and tracks — we ran.
With the world at our grandstand
We played our games
In the red-bright color of excitement,
In the loud blurr of abstract noise,
Performing our youth,
Testing our emotions,
With win and lose.

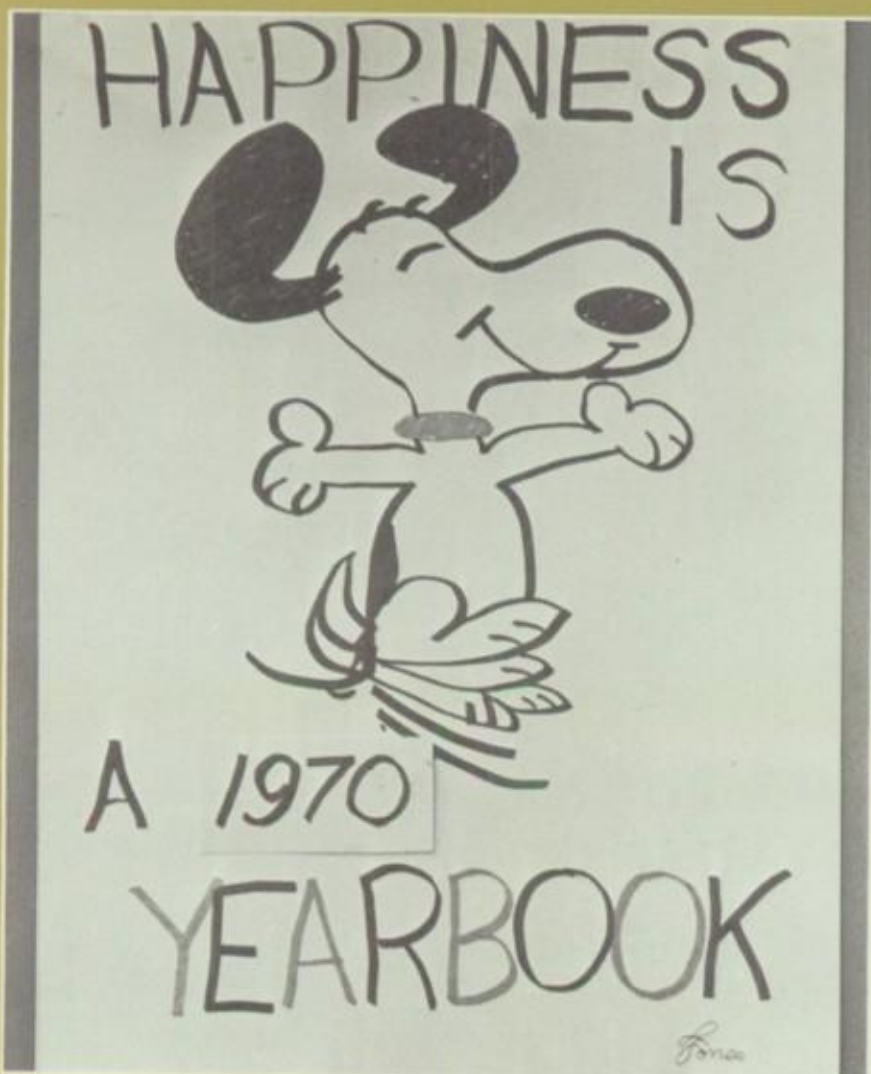

Activities

Also there were several activities —
Remotely individual and precisely whole —
Some made a book . . .

Moods and flashes —
Passing quickly
Or stretching themselves
 like bubble gum
Ending with loud bangs
 and scratches
Or foam rubber bounces —
Progressing
And making a progression of life.

We, I, you . . .
We wandered —
Making popcorn lives,
Planting popcorn dreams,
Storing our satisfactions
In such volumes
In case of time.
